ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT DIRECTORY

Economic development organizations play a crucial role in the corporate real estate profession by connecting companies with communities. They provide detailed information on their service areas – labor force, transportation, sites, available buildings, financial incentives and more – to assist companies in making sound business decisions about where to invest.

Accordingly, the LEADER's annual Economic Development Directory is a useful resource for expansion-minded companies. The directory is presented alphabetically by U.S. state, followed by organizations outside the United States. It includes all current economic development members of CoreNet Global.
